

"Mason's Going Dry"

TUNE—Bringing In The Sheaves.

1. Come ye loyal workers, join the temperance army.
Shout for Prohibition, now our battle cry:
Forward be our watchword in the mighty conflict,
See the cause advancing, Mason's going dry.

Chorus: Mason's going dry, Mason's going dry;
See the hosts advancing, Mason's going dry;
Mason's going dry; Mason's going dry;
So the host advancing, Mason's going dry.

2. Saloons will soon be banished from our land forever;
Hear the children singing, banners lifted high;
Joyous are their voices, happy are their faces;
Glory Hallelujah! Mason's going dry.

3. Voting in the morning, votes for Prohibition.
Voting out the darkness and the vile saloon.
Standing like a Daniel for a glorious purpose,
Hear the shouts of victory! Mason's going dry.

4. Rally! all ye faithful, rally to the conquest.
Shouts the glorious message, Victory is nigh;
Payers will soon be answered, God is lending onward.
We are sure to triumph, Mason's going dry.

EVERY BODY MEMORIZE AND SING.

"Hurtin' Bizness"

"Don't you know you're hurtin' bizness?" said the red fox to the hound.

When instead of sleepin' peaceful you come snoopin', sniffin' round?
What's the good of all your barkin'? What's the use of all this fuss?
What were chickens ever made for if they were not made for us?"

"Don't you know you're hurtin' bizness?" said the robber in the jail.

While the stubborn sheriff listened to his almost tearful tale;
"Those who make and sell the jimmies, don't you see, are losin' trade.
While you keep me here in jail, where no get-a-ways are made."

"Can't you see you're hurtin' bizness?" said the devil to the man
Who was steadily progressing on the live-and-let-live plan;
"You are keepin' men from fallin' who, if sorely pressed might fall;
Why, if all men did as you do, I would have no job at all."

"Don't you see you're hurtin' bizness?" said the brewer with a frown,
"For unless you have saloons, the farmers will not come to town;
Then the license money helps to build the streets and walks and all.
And, sir, we must make a livin' if the men and boys do fall."

"Don't you see you're hurtin' bizness?" said the merchant with a sneer,
"Who's a 'go'in' to pay our taxes, if they quit a sellin', heer?
True, it's tough on wives and children, in the homes of drunken men.
But, then, if it's hurtin' bizness, they must get on as they ken."

"Yes, we know we're hurtin' bizness, says the man who sees things right,
"Judge, police and undertaker each finds bizness growing light;
But our mothers and our babies, looking brighter every day
Proves the wisdom of our purpose, and 'SALOONS MUST GO TO STAY'."

THE SALOON AND THE SCHOOL

Schools are built to develop the mental acumen, moral cleanness, physical strength and industrial and social efficiency of the coming citizens.

Alcoholic beverages lessen and destroy mental acumen and moral cleanness and impair and destroy physical strength and industrial and social efficiency. There can then be made no consistent argument for the preservation of the saloon on the ground that the license fees maintain the schools. The saloon is the enemy of all that the schools stand for.

It is the custom to place in schools and colleges, memorial tablets or statues in marble or bronze in honor of the founders or donors to these institutions and the children and students are taught to revere the men and women who have thus made possible these institutions. Would certain business men in Maysville wish to have Maysville school children taught to honor and revere the saloon as the source of their educational opportunity?

Would not the boy or girl from a drunk-cursed home beg for a sober father rather than for the school?

Make whatever apology you can for the saloon, but in the name of common sense and common decency don't drag in the school and the Bible. Such degradation is revolting.

The State cannot tax itself to promote education and then license an institution that undoes all that education is meant to accomplish.

WHO IS RESPONSIBLE?

Investigation has failed to find any one either among the leaders or in the ranks of the "Dry" who is responsible for the dodger referring to the awful happening that bereaved a family of a devoted mother and saddened every heart in Maysville county.

Regard for hearts in two families already lacerated has deterred every writer and speaker on the "Dry" side from making any reference to this tragedy.

If any unknown friend of Prohibition is responsible for the dodger, he made a great mistake. If it was done by the "Wets," it is in keeping with their tactics that they should make capital of the sorrow which they created.

Every line of printed matter put out by the "Dry" has been printed right here in Maysville. The dodger purports to come from Cincinnati.

"THE DEADLY PARALLEL," 1894-1914

There is a "deadly parallel" between conditions of the country today and those of twenty years ago, declares Hon. Simon D. Fess, representative in Congress of the Sixth Ohio District. Dr. Fess is a close student of political conditions, being the author of the History of Political Theory and Party Organization in the United States.

"Democrats can not ignore the deadly parallel of twenty years ago," he says, "when they superseded a protective tariff system by their revenue system under the name of the Wilson bill. Imports increased, exports decreased, the balance of trade was turned against us, gold was exported, capital could not invest, labor lost employment. In a word, business was paralyzed."

"In the face of such distress, the Democratic party sought a new issue and a new leader and it found the issue in '16 to '1 and the leader in William Jennings Bryan. We were told the tariff had nothing to do with it and that the depression was world-wide. Now, Wilson says, it is merely 'psychological.'"

"Now, note the deadly parallel: For the first time in twenty years imports have outrun our exports. In the single month of April, 1914, the change against us from the month of April a year ago, was sixty-four million dollars. This tendency was continued in May, a direct result of the Underwood tariff act, the second Wilson bill. Capital is hesitating, labor is unemployed, gold is leaving the country in frightful proportion, business is paralyzed and the Nation is facing an issue of bonds, and a season of depression similar to that of twenty years ago under the last Democratic administration of revenue system of tariff. When we remind our Democratic friends of our warnings last year when we discussed the Underwood bill, in which some of us pointed out the inevitable consequence, we are indicted as calamity howlers. Wilson declares it is simply a state of mind."

"It is an interesting study to note the parallel similarity of the present Democratic regime with that of twenty years ago. I can not believe that the people will fail to connect results with causes."

"TO THE COLORS"

The people are looking with confidence to the Republican party for the restoration of clean and best government. Fellow-Republicans, the call being sounded is "to the colors!" Let all petty differences be laid aside and every friend of safe, sound and honest rule rally to the standard and heartily support the candidates selected at the Republican primaries. Let no unjustifiable division or personal diversion deplete the ranks—William Nottingham before the New York Republican State Convention.

Now watch the Democratic party, awake at last to the necessity for a merchant marine, try to get up a law that will offer subsidies for the making of one without calling them "subsidies." In time of stress, it is always safe for the Democracy to fall back upon Republican doctrines, if it can only find a way to call them by another name.

The wooden leg industry is one that has not been mentioned, but which is bound to profit by the war—Paducah Evening Sun.

NOT TILL JOHN BULL SAYS SO

Peace is no more possible in Europe now than peace would have been possible in our own Civil War before the issue of slavery and secession were determined for all time. Out of this war must come more than a mere truce—more than a paper peace. There must come a new emancipation proclamation, striking from civilization the shackles of military autocracy. Without a new birth of freedom all this sacrifice and suffering and bloodshed will have been in vain.—New York World.

The drift to the cities goes on in every land. It is not the result of education; it is a gravitational born of mankind's inherent gregariousness, the ever-present love of companionship and diversion. Towns offer so many things to stare at. The big child in all of us loves to look. Life in town, even to the rank outsider, is a continuous pageant. It holds something for the emptiest mind.—Detroit Free Press.

The recent evidences of anarchy in Mexico, the continued exploits of Zapatha and the general temper in the Mexican people furnish conclusive evidence that it would be dangerous to reduce the battleship patrol in Mexican waters. It is the duty of the American government to protect the land forces at Vera Cruz, even though the fall drill should have to be postponed.—Washington Post.

AN INCIDENT OF THE ROAD.

"Stop!" cried the man in the road. "You are exceeding the speed limit."
"That's all nonsense," retorted Binks, bringing his car to a standstill.
"That's what they all say," said the man in the road, climbing into the car. "You can tell your story to the magistrate at Hinktown—yet seven miles up the road start along, please."
They drove on in silence to Hinktown, where, as the car drew up in front of the courthouse, the man in the road got out.
"Much obliged for the lift," said he. "You can settle that matter of speed with the magistrate if you want to. As a stranger in these here parts I don't think my word would go for much."

HONESTY IN ADVERTISING.

Honest Policy the Only Successful Plan.
Business that would attain leadership in a competitive field must advertise. A big manufacturing concern doing business everywhere and especially one whose goods last so long that they sell each consumer infrequently, cannot afford the expense of having them everywhere on the ground to solicit orders at just the right moment. This causes a demand for the goods and big selling or jobbing concerns gladly do the rest of the work of delivering the goods and collecting for them. This makes the best and most economical way to do business.

Advertising effects a saving by economically paying the way for the sales manager to make sales quickly and easily by correspondence or the call of his salesmen. It picks out the real prospective customers and leaves out those who are not interested.

There are honest and dishonest kinds of advertising. Facts clearly and honestly stated are the best selling arguments in the world and make a healthy growth in business. Once a certain rate of progression has been attained on an honest basis, the business will generate its own power and ascend the hill of success.

If, on the other hand, the goods are represented as being through dishonest advertising, the confidence of the people in that house will be shaken and ruin will soon come from the expense of the advertising without the necessary volume of business from happy customers to pay for it. Such experience affects the confidence of everyone in advertising in general, and injury, to a certain extent, the honest advertiser.

Advertising, to be a success, must be honest, not only in big things, but in little things as well. The people may be fooled part of the time, but the time soon comes when a dishonest advertiser finds out he has fooled the people very long. This accounts for most failures in advertising.

THE TANGO SET.

"We are going to tell the people just what we think of the Democratic party," said Miss Alice Paul to a Washington correspondent, following a recent meeting of the Congressional Union for Woman Suffrage when a campaign was launched against the National Democratic party.

"We are not going to fight individuals," Miss Paul continued, "but the Democratic party. We will show Majority Leader Underwood and Mr. Henry of the Rules Committee, that we can do some effective work against the organization of the House."

There will be nothing new in that. The society which this silly young woman hails from has been fighting the Democratic party from time immemorial. The colored ladies of Dixie used to hear of it when it was preaching 'social equality.' Its creed then was 'a white woman is nearly as good as a black woman if she behaves herself.'"

Alas, why do not our pure, good and thoughtful women 'sit up and take notice.' If they leave the future to the young animals of the tango-suffrage class, what is to become of the world? Behold them as they pass. There are just two kinds: Those who have found themselves and their world, and those who haven't. These last are abundantly represented among the suffragists; a needless lot they are, out of a job and prattling to produce a masterpiece. But the master they need is not a man, for some of them have men already, but an inner governor, who shall look out of their hearts, their brains and their eyes to see and to apprehend both truth and duty, curing the physically and mentally diseased, purifying the lewd, horsey, all-knowing girls, who defy God and nature, and sending the arid, intolerant old women, who have wrecked their lives, or had their lives wrecked for them, gently and kindly to the green graves that await them.—Courier-Journal.

QUEER HUMAN NATURE.

"Why are you so anxious to get back to Europe?"
"To fight in the army."
"And why did you come over here?"
"To avoid military duty."

NATIONS INCREASED FUNDS TO PARTICIPATE WHEN WAR WAS DECLARED IN EUROPE--SEE AMERICA FIRST IN 1915

The opening of the Panama canal appeals to all the world. The Panama-Pacific International Exposition, which opens in San Francisco on February 20, 1915, and closes December 4, 1915, will be the greatest manifestation of national achievement since the Declaration of Independence.

Within three weeks after the European war broke out the Argentine Republic, in view of the new trade alignments between the North and South American republics increased its fund for participation in the exposition from $1,300,000 to $1,700,000. Holland increased its fund from $100,000 to $400,000 and ordered construction rushed upon the superb Netherlands Pavilion, next to the Palace of Fine Arts. Japan, through Consul-General Numano at San Francisco, asked for increased exhibit space in the exhibit section and promised that the superb Japanese Pavilion will be completed in every detail upon the opening of the exposition. During the Japanese-Russian war Japan made a splendid exhibit at the great Louisiana Purchase Exposition in St. Louis. France cabled that there had been no changes in her plans to take part in the exposition.

Thirty-nine nations will be officially represented at the Panama-Pacific International Exposition. The nations have appropriated huge sums for participation, China, for example, having appropriated $800,000 for the superb Chinese Pavilion, which is being rapidly rushed to completion.

Six months before its opening, the exposition was more than ninety per cent completed.

Thousands of Americans who have never toured the United States will make the great circuit of the country with the beautiful and colossal Panama-Pacific International Exposition as their objective point in 1915. More than $500,000,000 has been expended in Europe every year by American tourists, but next year the traveling world will "See America First."

ATTRACTIVE BOOK ON THE PANAMA-PACIFIC INTERNATIONAL EXPOSITION AND PANAMA CANAL MAILED FREE

A HANDSOME book of sixty pages, profusely illustrated in colors and giving detailed descriptions of the Panama-Pacific International Exposition to be held in San Francisco from February 20 to December 4, 1915, and of the Panama canal and canal region, will be mailed by the Exposition free of charge to all inquirers. The booklet is intended for prospective visitors and will also contain information concerning the great engineering feat which the Exposition is to celebrate. Write to the Manager, Bureau of Publications, Panama-Pacific International Exposition, Exposition Building, San Francisco, for booklet.

"MOONLIGHT SCHOOLS"

Are Opened in Kentucky With Enrollment of Over 50,000

Believe Attendance Will Be Increased To 100,000--Money Needed To Carry on Fight To Eradicate Illiteracy--Mrs. Cora Wilson Stewart Makes Statement

Frankfort, Ky.--According to the latest reports received here more than 1,000 "moonlight schools" have been opened in Kentucky with an enrollment exceeding 50,000. The schools were opened last week and Mrs. Cora Wilson Stewart, chairman of the State Literacy Commission, says she believes that by October 5 the attendance will be increased to 100,000. Reports from various sections are to the effect that adult illiterates are taking great interest in the schools.

Mrs. Stewart and Mrs. Gilmer Speed Adams of Louisville, president of the Kentucky Society of Colonial Dames, have worked out the details of a financial campaign to be conducted by the women of the State to raise funds to promote the work of eradicating illiteracy before the 1920 census. This campaign will open in Louisville the third week in November, and will be conducted for five weeks. Mrs. Stewart will speak in behalf of the cause during the campaign.

In addition to the ready response of the teachers of the State to the call to open moonlight schools, public men in Kentucky and its representatives in Congress are evincing great interest in the work and stimulating teachers by offers of prizes. The Kentucky Society of Colonial Dames has offered a prize of $15 for the teacher writing the best true story "of my moonlight school."

Mrs. Stewart said that the average illiterate can learn to read and write in about three weeks, but the course contemplates more than these mere rudiments. Practical drills in history, household economics, elements of agriculture and civics are included in the programme outlined for the schools. Good roads are discussed and the part the State road department plays in their improvement; and kindred topics are introduced, the whole designed to give the illiterates a start on the path toward doing their part in community upbuilding.

Mrs. Stewart's Statement.
Mrs. Stewart said: "The Kentucky Literacy Commission is receiving most enthusiastic reports from the various counties as to the moonlight schools of the State, which began their sessions Monday evening, September 7. In one school reports 150 enrolled. In some schools pupils past 70 are in attendance. Both educated and uneducated are taking a great interest in the movement in the various counties. Superintendent Georgia V. Sledge, of Montgomery county, and her whole force of teachers, both white and colored, are in the field actively fighting illiteracy. Superintendent Katie B. Beauchamp, of Spencer county, and every teacher in the county have volunteered in the moonlight school work. Dr. I. S. Manning, President of the Clay County Literacy Commission, a venerable retired physician, has been traveling many days and speaking twice each day at different points in the various schools in the advocacy of the moonlight schools."

McCreary county is making splendid leader Super who writes: "The moonlight schools are doing a great work."

"I have had the experience for the first time of seeing grown men and women learning to read and write in the moonlight schools, and want to assure you that it affected me deeply. We are having a splendid response in this county, both teachers and trustees are campaigning vigorously. This movement to eradicate illiteracy from our State is certainly the greatest movement ever started."

"Lincoln county teachers are finding many illiterates, and report great interest being manifested. The teachers in the Ninth Congressional district--Montgomery, Bath, Rowan and others--are contending for Congressman Fitch."

"$25 prize to the teacher in his district who excels in the moonlight school work, while Wolfe and Morgan county teachers will meet next Friday at Hazard to organize actively for the fall."

"The teachers of Carroll county have volunteered and will begin moonlight schools on October 5, at which time Jefferson, Taylor and some others will begin. Adair, Meade, Monroe, Ohio, Trigg, Logan, Webster, Muhlenberg, Scott, Trimble, Menefee, Barren, Laurel and other county teachers are enlisting upon the commission for assistance and supplies."

"The commission is short of funds, no appropriation having been made for this work, and a movement is now on foot to have the women of the State raise the funds, and Mrs. Gilmer Speed Adams, of Louisville, president of the Kentucky Society of Colonial Dames, and Miss Rebecca Averill, of Frankfort, were in conference here concerning this campaign in Louisville the third week in November. While the Society of Colonial Dames has assumed its part of the campaign against illiteracy in Kentucky the raising of funds to finance the work, this being a woman's movement, and all the women in the State will have part in it."--Lexington Leader.

OUR CITIZEN'S DEMAND

Fully Complied With--A Maysville Resident Expressed It

There are few items which appear in this paper more important to Maysville people than the statement published below. In the first place, it is from a citizen of Maysville and can be thoroughly relied upon. In the second place it indisputably proves that Doan's Kidney Pills do their work thoroughly and not temporarily. Read this carefully: Frederick Dresel, 1238 E. Second St., Maysville, Ky., says: "I was troubled with inflammation of the bladder and annoyance from my kidneys. The passages of the kidney secretions were irregular and I had a severe pain across the small of my back which interfered with my duties. When a friend advised me to try Doan's Kidney Pills, I got a box at Wood & Son's Drug Store. Since using them I have had no trouble. All I said about Doan's Kidney Pills before, still holds good."

Mr. Dresel is only one of many Maysville people who have gratefully endorsed Doan's Kidney Pills. If your back aches--If your kidneys bother you, don't simply ask for a kidney remedy--ask distinctly for Doan's Kidney Pills, the same that Mr. Dresel had--the remedy backed by home testimony. 50c all stores. QUAIL ARE PLENTIFUL.

"Quail are reported much more plentiful this year than for the last two seasons," said J. Q. Ward, executive agent of the State Game and Fish Commission. A shortage of cover, due to the prolonged drought he believes, will make the sport exceptionally fine when the season opens the middle of November. Last year unseasonable floods washed away the nests at brooding time and the year before cold weather and floods got many of the birds. At the same time pot hunters were slaughtering and shipping out of the state hundreds of birds. By co-operation between the State and Federal departments that has made too hazardous an occupation to be profitable and Kentucky is rapidly being restocked.

"Did he pick his pocket?" asked the caller. "Naw," replied the Postmaster. "Lem saw an advertisement that said for a dollar they would send him a reeple telling how to get rid of a red nose. PLAYS PIANO AND VIOLIN AT SAME TIME.
Feeling the necessity of an accompanist when he desired to play his violin, and being unable always to obtain the services of one, the keeper of a country hotel in a small Ohio town devised an apparatus which enables him to play a violin and a piano at the same time. His apparatus is shown in an illustration in the October Popular Mechanics Magazine. A wooden framework which fits before the piano holds the violin in position, and by a series of foot levers provides for the manipulation of the bow. The strings of the instrument are played with the left hand, while the right hand and one foot are used in playing the piano accompaniment.

He claimed a kiss and the claim was good, For the maid did not resist. A light would flash, and every time In a moment the maid was kissed. To Be Paid For Peace---Human Slaughter in European Arena Drawing to Close

Fighting Millions of Devils and Demons Exhausted By Weeks of Battling--- Fall of Kaiser Written on the Cards of Destiny

London, Sept. 20.—A correspondent of the Times sends the following dispatch from "Behind the British Lines," dated September 19:

"The great battle draws to a close. Exhaustion, rather than shot and shell, has wrought a terrible peace along the river banks—a peace which my experiences of the last few days lead me to believe may be the herald of the victory. That at least is how I read the situation.

"I have seen our troops and the French go into battle these last days, not as worn and weary men but as conquerors. I have seen them return wounded from this valley of death with the conquering spirit fanned to fierce fury."

Here is a typical description from the trenches of the great struggle:

"We are slowly beating them back. We have to do it foot by foot, for they have huge guns and their shell fire is terrible. But we keep pegging away. How? Well we dig ourselves in—we British lads have learned that lesson—and then we go on fighting and fighting until the moment comes when we can make a small advance. We crawl up again and dig ourselves in and so on. "At the end, of course, comes the cold steel. We are all right there."

Reports of Progress Differ.

Reports differ as to the progress of the great battle in Northern France. Some indicate that there is heavy fighting, while others tell of the great masses lying in the flooded trenches, many of them at the stage of exhaustion. At some points fierce engagements have been fought with the tide flowing in one direction and then in another. The allies won a position here and the Germans have gained one there.

The British in the trenches say: "We are slowly beating them back." The French official statement declared that though the furious counter attacks by superior forces had obliged them to yield some ground, this was regained.

Berlin announces that the Franco-British forces have been obliged to take the defensive and that the results of German attacks were slow.

STATE FAIR ENDS

Big Success and Broke All Records—Remarkable Feats Performed By Beachey 8,500 Feet in Clouds

(Sunday's Courier-Journal.)

When the twelfth annual Kentucky State Fair was brought to a close last night it was found by the State Board of Agriculture that, apart from being the most successful exhibition from many other standpoints, the 1911 Fair had accomplished two feats which will live in history.

"In the first place, the Kentucky State Fair ends this year without owing anyone a cent, as I am turning over to the State tonight a $350,000 piece of property absolutely without encumbrances, after six years of work as head of the Fair," declared Commissioner of Agriculture J. W. Newman, of Versailles.

"Then we have broken all attendance records, with a total of 111,126 admissions."

Profits of the 1911 fair will run close to $15,000, according to Mr. Newman.

Beachey Goes Up 8,500 Feet in State Fair Flight.

Lincoln Beachey made two flights in his biplane at the Kentucky State Fair yesterday afternoon and the comparatively small crowd which witnessed his flights were more than thrilled.

Beachey's first flight began at 2:07 o'clock and lasted nineteen minutes. His second began at 5:06 o'clock and lasted eight and a half minutes. In each flight he performed all of the "stunts" for which he has become famous, including the "loop-the-loop," the headlong dive and flying upside down.

Beachey started his first flight from the southern end of the racetrack enclosure. He circled the racetrack three times and started upward, turned three downward somersaults and began a journey to the clouds, never stopping till he had attained an altitude of 8,500 feet. Six times he described a complete circle. On the fourth circle, while about three-quarters of a mile in the air, he turned the somersaults.

When 8,500 feet high he steered due north and sailed through a cloud. Then he veered westward and sailed above another cloud, turning southward and repeating the performance in front of the grandstand. Again he started north, sailed above a cloud and turned the nose of his biplane to earth, dropping straight through a cloud and about a mile head foremost, righting his machine just in time to land.

The second flight was started on the racetrack. Three times Beachey flew around the half-mile track, finishing the distance in one minute and a half from the time his motor started working. Then he ascended straight up about three-quarters of a mile and turned two upward somersaults. While nearly a mile high he described a half somersault and flew upside down thirty-five seconds, coming back to earth at the conclusion of the performance.

The flight around the racetrack proved almost as thrilling as the somersaulting and upside down flying. Each time Beachey passed the grandstand he descended almost to earth and flew up between the judges' stand.

There are no preliminaries to Beachey's flights. His mechanics rig up his machine and tow it to the starting place. Beachey throws off his hat, puts on a cap, jumps on the seat and goes. Before starting the first flight yesterday he took a diamond stud out of his pocket and attached it to his necktie, saying he might lose it otherwise.

"So long, boys, if I don't see you again," was his only remark. A few minutes later he was almost out of sight.

The Editor of The Public Ledger witnessed this remarkable aerial flight as described in Sunday's Courier-Journal:

FARM BOYS' ENCAMPMENT

At State Fair Interesting and Profitable—John J. Hook Represented Mason County.

A public announcement was sent out over the State last June by J. L. Dent, Secretary of the Kentucky State Fair, stating that one boy from each of the 120 counties of the State would be given the opportunity to visit the Fair, without expense—provided they properly answered certain questions, and were "actual residents and workers on a farm." The "questions" were to be prepared by the Agricultural College. John J. Hook of this place immediately wrote to the Fair management and entered the contest. During the last days of August he was delighted to receive a letter from Secretary Dent, stating that his answers were "the best" from this county.

Later he received credentials and tickets and as Mason county's only representative in the "Farm boys' Encampment," he is having the time of his life in Louisville this week.

The purpose of this Encampment is to extend the educational advantages of the Fair to the farmers of the State, by making farming interesting and attractive—and to help hold our bright boys on the farm. It goes without saying that these 120 boys will carry home with them practical ideas that will not only be profitable but will brighten and cheer many of the hard and wearysome days that come into the life of a boy on the farm.

Next year this privilege will come to some other boy in Mason county, as a boy is allowed to compete the second time. For particulars regarding Farm Boys' Encampment, consult Department F, in Kentucky State Fair Catalogue. John J. Hook is a son of Mr. and Mrs. G. W. Hook, now owners and residents of Maplewood, the home of the late General P. C. Dogman. He is an industrious boy and when his physician ordered him to leave school and work in the open, he took up work on the old farm with energy, as his "Demonstration Aerial" in the Mason County Boys' Corn Club and his efficient help to his father have proven.

EDWARD ROACH

Agel Man of Murphysville Suicides.
Poor Health Supposed to be Cause.

Mr. Edward Roach, aged about sixty of Murphysville, was found dead in bed yesterday afternoon about one o'clock. The barrel of a shot-gun was clutched in the dead man's hand, and his feet were near the trigger. It is thought that he killed himself by placing the muzzle of the gun against his head and pulling the trigger with his toes. The entire top of his head was blown off.

Neighbors, failing to see Mr. Roach yesterday morning and knowing that he had been in poor health and despondent for some time past, investigated and found conditions as above.

Coroner Slack was sent for and he and Mr. Thomas Higgins went out.

The body was brought to this city and taken to Conklin & Co.'s undertaking establishment.

Mr. Roach was unmarried and to near relatives survive him.

Burial will be in Washington Cemetery this morning at ten o'clock.
